“ Oh my friend, BobBon, as I referred to her for the 20 yrs I was employed at Porter Pirates School. Whatever area we were needed, we were there! Diehards is what I'm thinking we were, her, CJ & I. Just good friends and then I moved away, out of state. It was then I'd lost touch with her, but years later I found CJ & she kept me updated. It's comical somewhat, but I remember at Porter school we would gather in our "humongous" teacher lounge, eating lunch. Someone brought home baked cookies. They looked delicious...on the top. Underneath they were burnt black! The person that brought the batch said, "Here Bonnie, I bagged them & brought them to you." BonBon took them gladly! She was so happy to get them. She loved to eat anything burnt. She really did! So, we all were aware NOT to throw anything out that was burnt. Our friend BonBon would love them! So, I guess you could say we were not wasteful, right? I loved BonBon very much! Love & prayers for families & friends left behind. ❤️🙏🕊️🌹 . Becky DryH2o
