“ Debbie was my mom, when I needed one most. She was a friend you could always count on to talk to about anything. When I met Debbie, I was 12 years old. She took me in, helped me deal with family struggles and taught me a thing or two in the kitchen (BBQ bologna 🍷). She will always be remembered and one of my most favorite people. Always.

“ I remember when I first met Debbie at Anderson, we became buddies right then, I considered her my sister. We shared a lot of memories, and everyone at the school would say their those two go. We stayed in things with laughs and tears. I miss my buddy, and so does my daughter Sasha, who Debbie always said where is my girl (daughter). LaResa Cox
