“ My little sister, Kathyne was 14 months younger than me and we were treated as twins (dressed alike) growing up at 318 Alameda St in Norman with our grandparents. We would play in the backyard and when we were tired we would play pretend with our Grandmother, by knocking on her door and calling her Miss Picklebee and she would give us the little Cokes to refresh. We shared rabbits at Easter, Barbie and Ken at Christmas and our love for animals when Mary Lee, our shepherd gave birth to 9 puppies and we made the Norman Transcript holding our pups. We were separated in childhood, but we always loved each other and reconnected whenever we could.

We loved vacation bible school each year across the street from our home. One of my favorite memories of our childhood is laying in the backyard at night listening to the crickets (we thought they were as big as a cat) and looking for the man in the moon. The innocents of childhood and sisterly love will always be my memories of my little sister. She is with our siblings now in heaven and I know we will see Miss Picklebee together again. Paty Lyn
