“ I will forever remember that smile! I met KayLynn at the O'Laughlin New Year's Eve party years ago. She brought a pot of brown beans my picky husband actually liked. I have never been able to duplicate it even asking her for the recipe. I will continue to pray for Barry and your family. You will always be remembered and continued prayers for Barry and your family. RIP Kaylynn

“ I didn't know KayLynn all that well, and have seen her only once since I graduated. It was at my class of 86' reunion, and I was there with my first child, who was just an 8 month old babe in arms. KayLynn and I talked about parenting and our different experiences. She was thoughtful, easy to talk with, and had a lot of wisdom. I've always remembered that conversation. I am so sad to hear of her passing, and hold Berry and all of her family and friends in my thoughts.

“ I cannot put into words how I'm feeling tonight. I can't believe you are really gone. I have no doubt that you will live on in the hearts and lives of your family. Some say we are each an amalgamation of all those who have come in and out of our lives,; if so, you will also live on in the lives of all those you blessed, loved, and inspired in your short time here on earth. I have so many memories, but I think the one I'll treasure the most is that of your laugh. You loved hard and you laughed deep. You brought joy and happiness to all. For that as well as hundreds of other reasons, you will be missed every single day. I will see you again someday. I love you!
