“ My path crossed Larry's not long after I entered the world of criminal defense and he offered me a helping hand as I learned to navigate the murky waters. I'm sure there were days he wished he hadn't given me that encouraging smile but tucked tail and headed out of the courthouse instead. Fortunately for me, he was patient and kind - and I benefited immensely from his wisdom and experience. He provided a calm in whatever storm du jour I found myself. It is the juxtaposition of that steady calm and his keen wit that I will miss the most. It will be long coming that I don't search for his head above the sea of attorneys/defendants to find comfort in the gentle nod awaiting me there.

Fondly,
Caroline Drummond

“ Buddy you will forever be missed. So hard to believe that I had spent Friday working with you and of course joking around and then to hear the heartbreaking news just days later. You always hear the "Good Ones" go to early and thats truly the case here. You and your stories will forever be missed buddy. I guess God needed you there to tell them to him in person. RIP Larry in time we shall see you again.

To Larry's family I can tell you that he loved each of you and Larry and I spoke almost daily for many many years and there wasnt ever a time he didnt mention you in a story about his childhood or as a parent. Larry leaves a huge void in this secular world and in many hearts but just know you do not suffer alone and I know he will be watching over all of you.

“When a sibling dies, the world changes in a heartbeat. You lose a part of your past, your present, and your future. All future special occasions will be forever changed. There will be no more shared birthday celebrations, holidays, or family reunions. The sharing of life’s unique and special events will never again be the same.”

Larry,

You are still here in my heart and mind because your stories live on. I hold you in a thought and I can feel you and this gives me strength and courage.

The tears I have cried for you could flood the earth and I know you have wiped each one away.

Even though I can no longer see you with my eyes or throw my arms around you for a big hug, I will feel you in my heart forever.

I am going to miss your smiling face, your wonderful laugh, and all the things that made you a wonderful man and brother.

You will forever be a brother, a father, a son, an uncle, and a friend.

*There is a special gift in life that some of us receive;
It's not a fancy car or house or a brilliant jewel to wear;
No, that very special thing is a person, near and dear,
Someone we call "brother", the greatest gift of all - Author Unknown*

I love and miss you my brother and will until one day when we meet again.

Your sister, Carolyn

Carolyn, on occasion, I would receive a text posing some question or making a statement that left me more confused than usual. When I would ask Larry for a few more strokes of paint/context clues, he'd respond with a quick "Sorry - that was for Carolyn." 😞 It was touching how fond he was of you. Your words above strike a chord with me, as I have three brothers and I can't imagine life without them. I'm certain your brother and my friend was among the best of them. Peace to you.
