“ I will love you forever Michael. You are my true love and I am yours, forever. You are the most amazing man I could have ever imagined that God would have picked for me to share my life with. I still hear your voice with me telling me things like “Be like water”, “sit your happy butt down” and on his birthday “Give my Jax whatever he wants”. I even feel your presence when something small makes me angry, almost like someone is picking on me to make me angry on purpose, so then I'm able to laugh and smile a moment, and say out loud “that's not funny Mikey”. While many things have happened during this last year we couldn't understand, it has prepared our family for this moment. We have done so many things as a family the last few months and you spent so much time with Izzy. I hope at her young age she is able to hold onto some of those memories. I know you will always be with all your kids to help guide them and grow. I think that is what hurts me the most. I wanted more time for you with all the kids. It will just make me work harder and be better to make sure you are always apart of their lives. You loved everyone so deeply and would help even those you didn't know without a second thought. I know you are I heaven because that kind of love is from God. You push me to be a better person and I will be. Every time I hear music I will remember dancing with you at our wedding, on dates, and in our living room. You are an amazing father, husband, brother, son, and friend.

I love you, forever.

Izzy says “Good morning, I love you, and gives you kisses”

Jax says “I love you Daddy”

“ I mean, who DOES this? In 2012, a aortic aneurysm almost caused my death. Mike drove all the way to Peoria and then Chicago to pray over me, and just days later my heart started beating on it's own with no further medical intervention. He then spent over a month getting this tattoo done as a testament to God's power. I love you, Mike!

“ Mike,

*I don't know what to say, I know there's a first time for everything. Lol. When we first met, you told me you had a twin brother. I told you I was the mother of twin girls. We talked about things you boys did and what my girls tried to pull on the family. I enjoyed those talks Mike, I wish we still could. My heart is breaking for Kasey and the children, I know you can watch them even better now. I hope we will meet again one day and we will have an amazing talk. I miss you. Love you Mike. See you on the other side.

“ HOPE

Although you are loved, Although you are missed, You are in a place far better than this.
I don't know why, but all things must die
All answers lay in heaven so high.
All things must die, so new can begin. Jesus Christ died and took all our sin.
Put your hope in Jesus, He'll see you through.
All the heartache and strife life puts you through.

“ FRIEND

Goodbye my friend, I will see you again. Life's not over eternity has just begun. I don't know the future but I remember the past. Time went by much too fast.

My friend I can see what you mean to me. Jesus is with you and I am too.

Road of death took your last breath. Pain of life ended your strife.

You are always my friend I will see you again.
