

Vergie Louise Hackett

February 26, 1928 - January 4, 2026

Vergie Louise (Blackwell) Hackett, 97, was born in Cedar Creek, Missouri on February 26, 1928, to Alva Monroe and Margaret (Bagley) Blackwell. On Sunday, January 4, 2026, at her granddaughter, Kelly Rowlett's home in Melissa, Texas, she entered eternal rest. Her journey was marked by a life walking in faith, resilience, and unwavering devotion to those she cherished, and a spirit that found beauty in everyday moments.

Vergie took comfort in watching classic television shows such as Gunsmoke, where familiar stories brought a sense of familiarity and excellent story lines. She delighted in friendly games of Chinese Checkers that often turned into moments of laughter and connection. She enjoyed browsing garage and estate sales, discovering small treasures and stories hidden in the ordinary, she found pleasure in shopping and dining out, along with her trips to the beauty and nail salon followed by a delicious lunch out.

More than anything, Vergie loved watching movies, gathering with family, and being surrounded by those she held dear. It was during these times, through quiet conversations, shared laughter, and the comfort of togetherness, that her heart was fullest and her joy most evident. When friends or loved ones came to visit, Vergie was known to greet them with a gentle smile, something to eat, and the opportunity to rest. "Tell me something good" was more than her phrase, it was an invitation. It reflected her genuine love for conversation, her deep interest in the lives of others, and her sincere desire to know what was happening in the hearts and days of the people she cared for most.

Vergie's life was marked by quiet strength, abiding kindness, abundant faith, and an enduring love that asked for little and gave immensely. She will be remembered not only for the things she did, but for the way she made people feel seen, welcomed, and deeply valued. Her memory will remain a source of comfort and guidance to all who were blessed to know her, living on in the hearts of her family and friends for generations to come.

Vergie was preceded in death by her parents; brother, Alva Dean Blackwell of Muskogee, Oklahoma; sister, Anny Faye (Blackwell) Jackson of Cedar Creek, Missouri, and sister, Alma Jean Buchanan of Fargo, Oklahoma; husband, Edgar Eugene Hackett of Roanoke, Virginia; her beloved children, Janet Louise Hackett, Carolyn Lucille Hackett, and Robert Eugene Hackett, all of Muskogee, Oklahoma.

Vergie is survived by her brother, Eldon Blackwell of Briggs, Oklahoma; sister, Betty Long of Arkansas; her children, Teresa Eller of Denham Springs, Louisiana, Randy Hackett of Wichita, Kansas, Annitte Marie Hackett-Hester of Pinon Hills, California; as well as multitude of grandchildren, great grandchildren and great-great grandchildren whose lives were enriched by her love and steady presence.

“ Here’s a
In Loving Memory of My Grandmother Veegie Louis Hackett
My grandmother was the backbone of our family. She held us together in ways that words can barely explain. I know I wasn’t always the best kid or teenager, but if it weren’t for her, I truly don’t know where I would have ended up. She was always there for me—and for all of us—no matter what we were facing or what problems we carried.
She was strong, loving, and unwavering. Her support never wavered, and her presence was a constant source of comfort and guidance. Because of her, we have the family we have today—large, full of life, rooted in love, and blessed with generations of strong, fabulous women.
She lived 97 beautiful years, and her legacy will live on through every life she touched. She will forever be missed, forever loved, and forever the heart of our family.
